Commensurate with a faculty appointment at the Assistant Professor or Associate Professor level, the successful candidate will also be expected to conduct research, mentor students, and participate in College-wide and departmental service.

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Teach 12-credit hours each in both Fall and Spring semesters, provide student advising, and serve on departmental and College committees.
- Instruction of classes and clinical components as assigned.
- Direct and indirect supervision of students in diverse clinical settings.
- Coordination of clinical, lab, and course assignments in collaboration with the faculty team within the academic level assigned.
- Evaluation of students in class and clinical/lab settings.
- Regular communication with students regarding their progress.
- Maintenance of student academic records.
- Uphold expected course outcomes.
- Participate in the formulation of course assignments, accreditation activities, and course and program assessments.
- Prepare and teach College-approved courses in accordance with approved course descriptions and class schedules, including developing syllabi and reading lists, and keeping each course taught complete and up to date.
- Hold routine office hours.
- Participate in Admissions events and recruitment activities.

- Perform research and publish in accordance with the requirements of a tenure track position.
- Work effectively with culturally, linguistically, and ethnically diverse faculty, staff, and students.
- Demonstrate excellent oral and written communication skills and strong information technology literacy skills with proficiency in Microsoft Office.
- Other duties as assigned by the Nursing Department Chairperson.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Master of Science of Nursing degree from an accredited institution of higher education
- Current, unencumbered New York State RN license
- 3 - 5 years of nursing education experience is required, preferably in a college or university setting.
- Current CPR certification.
- Demonstrated ability in teaching, curriculum development, and assessment.
- Commitment to undergraduate teaching and student-faculty collaborative research.
- Ability to work with diverse faculty, students, staff, and administrators.

Preferred Qualifications:

- An earned doctorate in nursing or a related field
- Experience or education in obstetrical nursing or pediatric nursing
- Demonstrated proficiency in Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel, Google Drive, and Canvas or similar learning management systems.

Pay Range: $80,000 - $120,000

The advertised pay scale reflects the minimum and maximum salary range for this role. The specific compensation offered to a candidate may be dependent on a variety of factors including, but not limited to; the candidate's experience, education, credentials and/or qualifications.
